

A History of Freedom

From the earliest time, our species has grown in its belief in freedom. This belief has changed over time in relationship to the societies that have risen and fallen. With the assistance of Dr. J. Rufus Fears, The Great Courses and discussion, we will explore the development of freedom throughout time and attempt to discover what freedom really means to us today. This is a two term course.